

Introduction

Camping is both fun and rewarding. A week away in the bush with your cadets could replace six months worth of personal development. Camping can become an integral part of your cadet programme, and a rewarding experience for all.

The Objectives of Brigade with respect to Cadet and Crusader Divisions include:

To develop the spirit of combined effort while giving due consideration to the personality of the individual crusader/cadet;

To promote a healthy lifestyle;

To encourage among young people a full and enterprising use of leisure by providing all the facilities of a national youth organisation.
